HOME WEDDING

MISS RACHEL LYONS IS BRIDE OF FOREST LA ROCK OF LOS ANGELES

A very pretty pink and white home wedding occurred Tuesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Lyons, 428 South Louise street, when their daughter, Miss Rachel Lyons, became the bride of Mr. Forest LaRock of Los Angeles. The rooms were very tastefully decorated in pink carnations, orange blossoms, ferns and smilax. The bridal couple stood under a white bell in one corner of the room, which was banked with ferns, orange blossoms and smilax, while Rev. W. E. Edmonds of the Presbyterian church performed the impressive ceremony, the pretty ring ceremony being used. The bride looked very dainty and pretty in a dress of white taffeta and crepe de chine and she carried a beautiful bouquet of white rosebuds and maidenhair fern. Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played by Miss Kathleen Gorman. The bride came to Glendale with her parents four years ago from Illinois, since which time she has won many friends in our city. She attended the Glendale high school and is a member of the Glendale Presbyterian church. After congratulations and good wishes the evening was spent with music and delicious refreshments were served, carrying out the pink and white color scheme. The young people have gone to housekeeping in a home prepared by the groom at 1141 East 46th street, Los Angeles. The guests who witnessed the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. David Carney, Miss Bessie Deborah Carney, Stanley Gorman, Miss Kathleen Gorman, Miss Frances Ann Peckham, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Boyd, Robert and Harold Boyd, Misses Helen and Helene Hollingsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Billie LaVelle, Mrs. E. D. Johnson and Mrs. W. E. Edmonds, all of Glendale; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. LaRock of Redonda, Mr. and Mrs. W. Dodsworth, Miss Dorothy Davis and Wm. LaRock of Los Angeles.

CHRISTMAS EXERCISES

The Sunday School of the Christian Church held its Christmas exercises on Sunday morning, when a very entertaining musical and literary program was given and teachers and pupils brought their white gifts for the King. In the evening the midnight praise service was held. The first part of the evening a devotional service was held, followed by an hour of music given by the choir. The reports of the year were then read by the officers of the church, and the New Year was welcomed in with general good fellowship and sociability and refreshment, consisting of fresh fruit, was served.

On Monday evening at the Christian Church the beautiful cantata, "The First Christmas," was rendered under the direction of Mrs. John D. Cole. Before the cantata began and the chorus came in Mrs. Cole sang "Holy Night" and the invisible chorus of twenty-four voices hummed it in full harmony. The cantata lasted an hour and consisted of the chorus and quite a number of beautiful solos and duets. Mrs. Carl Hickman of Los Angeles sang the contralto solo, "The Lullaby"; Roscoe Burghardt of Los Angeles sang the bass solos, Ernest Rodgers of Los Angeles and Harry Doner sang the tenor solos, and Miss Helen Mosher and Mrs. Cole sang the soprano solos. The ladies quartet was composed of Mrs. Norman Horton and Mrs. John Cole, sopranos, Mrs. Roscoe Burghardt and Mrs. Carl Hickman, altos. Miss Grace Cloud was the accompanist and Mrs. Homer Miller the violinist. The church was beautifully decorted with holly and mistletoe. The new pastor, Elder Clifford A. Cole, gave the closing prayer.

AT GLENDALE HIGH

GEORGE U. MOYSE RETURNS FROM HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL'S CONVENTION

Principal Geo. U. Moyse of Glendale High School attended the State High School Principals' Convention at Riverside on December 27 to 30 inclusive. While the students of the school were enjoying the last of their holidays, Mr. Moyse was busy learning new methods of education.

At this meeting were representatives from practically every high school in the state, members of the state board of education and state educational commissions, state and county superintendents and officials, and many prominent educators from every section of the United States.

The entire program throughout the convention was definitely related to high school work. Among the speakers were Professor Leavitt, of the University of Chicago, Professor Briggs, Dean of the Teachers College of Columbia University, Professor Lange, Dean of the Department of Education, University of California, and Professor Thomas, California High School Examiner.

The relation of the high school to the university was discussed in its many phases. Changes were proposed to help the many high school students who have not planned for university entrance in their courses. Thousands of high school students graduate yearly, wishing to attend college, who have not the matriculation requirements.

The new normal school entrance requirements, which have caused so much concern this year on the part of girls expecting to attend normal, were taken up in detail.

Suggestions were made on proposed legislation soon to be introduced from the standpoint of high school men.

Much progress was made at this convention toward more uniform methods in the various schools. Among these were minimum graduation requirements, methods of grading and courses of study. All the questions of the day concerning high school education were taken up in a thorough manner.

Military training in the schools split the convention. One of the evening programs was devoted to a debate on this subject, four school principals taking part. Following the debate a free discussion on this live and down-to-the-minute topic took place.

Mr. Moyse declares that this is the most worth-while convention of high school importance in the state. The first convention was held last year, having been provided for by a recent act of the legislature. Such a get-together meeting of the leading educators cannot fail to bring results in standardizing and perfecting the educational system of our state.

J. Lang of Los Angeles, an employee of the Hoagland and Lakin Co., met with a painful accident in the boiler room of the administration building yesterday morning when an oil burner which he was adjusting exploded. Owing to the fact that the heating plant in the old building has never been a success, a new force-feed system has been installed. Mr. Lang was completing the work of installation. The burner had been lighted for a trial, and for some unknown reason the fire went out. The oil continued to flow, and the gases formed ignited, flaring out of the fire-box into the face of the victim. He was saved from more serious burns only by protecting his face with his hands. After being treated by Dr. Bryant, the patient was taken to his home by Alex. Macdonald.

The school was very much like a huge refrigerator yesterday morning because of the trouble with the heating system. The classes met in the cafeteria for the purpose of getting their assignments, and school was dismissed early.

THROUGH ORANGES TO SNOW

Newhall and the snow was the goal of a party of young motorists Friday. Starting from Glendale in the morning aboard a flivver, May Church, Mabel Newcomb, Eldred Marlatt, Chase Story and Walter Peters traveled north through the San Fernando Valley. Arriving at their destination they melted some snow for coffee and ate, after which they played in the pretty white flakes, making snowballs, building snow men, etc. Then they piled a lot of the white stuff on their trusty steed and returned home.

WEATHER FORECAST — Clear to-night, Thursday fair; colder in the interior to-night. Heavy frost Thursday morning.

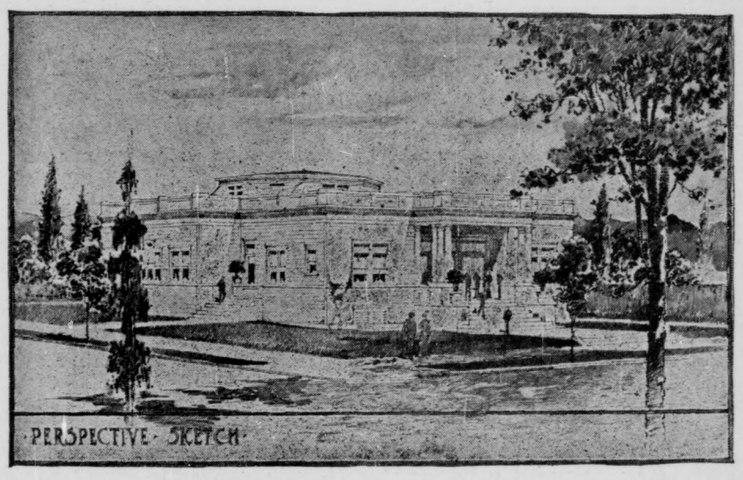
FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, GLENDALE

DEDICATES NEW CHURCH EDIFICE AT CORNER OF MARYLAND AVENUE AND SECOND STREET—MR. MORRIS SCHICK GIVES DEDICATORY ADDRESS

Sunday, December 31, 1916, was a happy day for members of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Glendale, when they dedicated their new church edifice with the simple service peculiar to the church. Christian Scientists never dedicate their churches until they are free from debt and they never ask for contributions aside from the fund. All offerings are expressions of gratitude for benefits received in Christian Science. Therefore the announcement of the dedication of the Glendale church means that the building is free from debt and that it is an expression of love and gratitude for benefits received.



The dedicatory service, which is a very simple one, was held at 11 o'clock and repeated at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Large congregations were present at both services, many visitors being present from out of town. After the customary church service, Mr. Morris Schick, a charter member of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Glendale, a former reader, a member of the Board of Directors, and a member of the building committee, made the following dedicatory address:

Eighteen residents of this valley, realizing the need of a Christian Science church in this community, withdrew their membership from Third Church of Christ, Scientist, in Los Angeles, to organize First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Glendale, and on April 17, 1912, the church was duly incorporated under the laws of the state.

The old Masonic Hall was rented and the first service held on Sunday, May 19, 1912. The attendance was large from the beginning, the interest and growth steady from the start. The Sunday School was formed, a reading room opened to the public and committees for special work were appointed. In fact, all the activities of a Christian Science church were established.

On April 18, 1913, the church was able to make the first payment on the building site upon which the church now stands, purchased for the sum of $2500.00.

Early in the year 1914 it was found that the Masonic Hall was inadequate to seat all who wished to attend the services. To meet the need for more room, the auditorium of the new Masonic Temple was leased. This proved to be for us a far more convenient and attractive place of worship.

As our growth continued, it again became evident that still more room was needed for our services. We had long felt the need of a church edifice, and believed that the time had now come to proceed with its erection.

At a business meeting held Jan. 28, 1916, the Board of Directors was authorized to take whatever steps were necessary for the construction of a church building. On account of the limited funds at our disposal, we at first planned to build a temporary structure, but as thought was given to the question, and our material sense of supply set aside for the spiritual, there was unfolded to us the possibility of a more permanent and dignified edifice. Plans were submitted by an architect, contracts entered upon, and the work of construction was begun.

The consecrated thought on the part of the membership for the furtherance of this work, was later manifested in the energy and vigor with which the work of erection was carried on, so that, within fifty-two working days the consummation of our hopes was realized, for the building was ready, furnished and complete for the opening services on June 11th, 1916.

The three services held on that day were not only well attended, but the contributions were liberal also, and this, added to the unselfish giving throughout the entire period of church construction, made it possible for the church to apply for financial aid from the Trustees under the will of Mary Baker Eddy.

At a business meeting of the church held June 16, 1916, it was voted to send in our application for assistance from this fund, and on November 3 a grant was made; this has now been received, and leaves the church property free and clear of all indebtedness. The total outlay on land, building, fixtures and furnishings has been approximately $13,000.

It was through the loving and untiring labor of our leader that the truths of Christian Science have been made available to all; she has made possible the organizing of Christian Science churches, and through her loving foresight it shall ever be the privilege of those who enter the doors of this edifice to remember with gratitude that a large share of the money expended in its construction was earned by the personal effort of Mary Baker Eddy.

With grateful humility may it be now said that we dedicate this house of worship to God, who is Infinite and Omnipresent Truth, to the Eternal Father—the divine Love that guards, guides and gives peace, health and immortality to man.

May the portals of this edifice ever be open to the seekers of Truth. May the weary, the heavy laden—burdened with the fears, cares and sins of material living, turn hither and find liberation from the thraldom of the senses. May the membership of this church hold high the light of Truth and Love, high above every contamination of personal sense so that "they that sit in darkness and the shadow of death" may see the light "to guide their feet in the way of peace." (Luke, I:79.)

May this assemblage of Christian workers ever render a willing service to the ideals and immortal truths our Master taught. May it be now said that we consecrate our lives and dedicate this church building, not to an unknown God but unto Him Whom all may know, from the least to the greatest; and Whom to know aright is life everlasting.

UNITY LODGE INSTALLS

The new officers of Unity Lodge, No. 368, F. and A. M., were installed at the meeting of the lodge Tuesday night at Masonic Temple. The installation ceremonies followed the regular business meeting, A. B. Spencer of Los Angeles, representing the Grand Lodge of California, installing the officers. At the conclusion of the ceremonies Mr. Spencer made a very eloquent address, and Past Master Wilbur McFadden on behalf of the lodge presented the retiring master, Don Erskine, with a very handsome past master's jewel, with a few well chosen and appropriate remarks. Mr. Erskine responded in a pleasing manner, expressing his appreciation of the token. All then adjourned to the banquet hall where a splendid banquet was in readiness, which was done full justice to. Speeches were made by Frederick Baker, Rev. Henry, Dr. Hogue and Geo. Moyse. The new officers are: W. F. Nash, Jr., master; Jordan F. Neel, senior warden; Roy Masters, junior warden, A. W. Tower, secretary; F. H. Vesper, treasurer; Rev. C. Irving Mills, chaplain; C. Ben Wilde, senior deacon; Frederick Baker, junior deacon; Henry P. Goodwin, senior steward; Henry H. Tisdale, junior steward; Roy V. Hogue, marshal; C. H. Ravenscroft, tyler.

WONDERFUL RECORD OF OUR MINES

Ten mines in Arizona paid $34,000,000 in dividends during the past year. Adding Utah, Montana, Nevada and Idaho dividends to those of Arizona, we have a total of over $100,000,000 in dividends paid out of the mines of these five western States in a single year.

These are some of the impressive facts brought out by the report of the Geological Survey to Secretary Lane just made. "Never before," said Mr. Lane, "has so large a draft been made on the natural resources of our country as during this year, and never before have the metals been extracted from these ores with less waste or utilized to better advantage in advancing the general prosperity of the country. Even as written in the plain figures of 1916 production the wonderful record of our mines sets forth a degree of national industrial independence only hoped for a few years ago.

"Again copper stands out as the best illustration of how American mines can meet a world demand. The output of nearly 2 billion pounds of the red metal is double that of ten years ago and its value is twice that of the copper produced in 1915. Add to this the fact that in value copper now contends with iron for first place among the metals and that together the amount of these two metals produced last year had a value of more than one billion dollars and we have a measure of what this country can contribute in useful metals.

"The output of zinc from domestic ores increased last year 95,000 tons, which makes a new record for that metal, the total value of spelter from United States ore being 150 million dollars. Lead also shows a large increase, the 75 million dollar output being a gain of more than 50 per cent.

"With all this activity in metal production the coal mines have had to meet a heavy demand, so that the bituminous coal output has now passed the half-billion ton mark, an increase of 12½ per cent. over the previous year. Coke production increased 30 per cent. and it is gratifying to note that by-product coke made the largest gain, which means a corresponding gain in benzol and other valuable by-products.

"Again the oil wells have given a new record for petroleum yield, the estimate of marketed production of crude petroleum for 1916 being 292 million barrels, or 11 million barrels more than in 1915.

"Another mineral product which furnishes an index of business conditions is cement, the 1915 production of which is estimated to be 5 million barrels in excess of the output of the previous year, while the shipments were even greater, aggregating 94,500,000 barrels, with the outlook reported as good for the new year.

"The reports received from the Survey's western offices contain most significant mining records. Every western State shows a large increase in yield of metals, Arizona leading with a gain of 100 million dollars over last year, while Utah and Montana together report another 100 million dollar gain. Alaska also had its best year, contributing a total value of more than $50,000,000 this year, or over 50 per cent. in excess of any previous year.

"These advance statements not only show that 1916 marks a new advance for the mineral industry of the country, but this remarkable increase promises to be approximately 25 per cent. over the 1915 production, so that we may expect the final figures to show a total of three billion dollars."

THE PRINTERS' LEAGUE OF AMERICA

Branch No. 4 of the Printers' League of America, located at Cincinnati, Ohio, is writing publishers asking them to oppose the Randall House bill No. 18986, which is a bill introduced by C. H. Randall asking "To exclude liquor advertising from the United States mails."

This bill is not being opposed by the better class of publications, but on the other hand it is meeting with the approval of the cleanest papers in the land. Why advertise the sale of alcoholic liquors through newspapers when it has been repeatedly proven the use of alcoholic liquors has a harmful effect upon persons who use the liquors?

The time has come that people have become convinced that there is no good derived to the human race from the sale of intoxicating liquors. That is a settled fact. Why then should the United States government allow publicity matter to pass through the mails when such matter advertises something that is a poison,—something that has been branded not fit for human consumption?

The Printers' League of America is nothing else in this instance than the saloon at work, and the saloon's work is one of dragging men downward. Congressman Randall deserves to be highly commended for his courage to prepare and introduce a bill of this character, and the Congressmen who vote against such a bill will be asked by their constituents to explain why they thus voted when these Congressmen come up for re-election. There is a for-decency wave passing over this country and the men who turn a deaf ear to it will be defeated at all elections.

GLENDALE'S COMFORT STATION QUESTION

The citizens of Glendale are aggressive upon many questions, and believe in providing all that is necessary for the comfort of their homes, but when it comes to providing for the comfort of strangers who are passing through the city or tarrying for a short time sightseeing, the question of providing comfort for these strangers has been entirely neglected.

Who is to blame for this neglect, the citizens in general, the board of trustees, the churches, the Chamber of Commerce, or the Evening News being careless in not calling the attention of the proper persons to the existing conditions? Gentlemen, it is a downright shame to be so neglectful toward the comfort of the public.

Glendale has a board of trustees and various clubs, churches and societies that boast of what wonderful things they are doing for Glendale, and they are right in their boasting, but they can not boast of the comfort stations that have been installed. Some one should get busy on this question.

DYNAMITERS ON TRIAL

(By United Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3—With W. Bourke Cockran occupying the spotlight as chief counsel for the defense, the second trial resulting from the Preparedness Parade dynamiting here began in superior court today.

Thos. J. Mooney, alleged leader of the four men and one woman accused of having plotted to place the bomb which exploded in the midst of paraders on July last, killed ten persons and injured 50, was on trial for his life.

The presence of Cockran has drawn the attention of the country to the trial in much the same way that Clarence Darrow's activity in the defense of the McNamara brothers drew the country's attention to that trial five years ago.

Following the conviction in September of Warren K. Billings, first of the five alleged conspirators tried, Cockran, noted New York lawyer, volunteered his service to the defense. He will serve without compensation, according to officers of the International Worker's Defense League which is conducting the defense.

Indicted with Mooney as a co-defendant is his wife, Rena Mooney, a music teacher and strike organizer, Thomas Mooney, leader of the defendants, was active in spreading strike propaganda and had planned to cause a general strike of United Railways platform men here a short time before the fatal Preparedness Day parade.

It was alleged by the prosecution that the bomb had been set to explode at a time when non-union employees of the street railway lines would pass the point where the bomb had been placed at Stewart and Market streets, but that a delay in the start of the parade upset the plans of the dynamiters.

The defense declares all the defendants are innocent and are victims of circumstantial evidence. Mooney surrendered to the police after reading newspaper statements that he was implicated in the crime. He was stopping at a summer resort at that time.

The case has been featured by several alleged confessions which were later refuted. A number of photographs taken on the day of the Preparedness Parade are held by both sides as evidence.

The trial opened in superior Judge Frank P. Dunne's chambers. District Attorney Charles M. Fickert and a corps of deputies represent the prosecution, while Cockran and Maxwell McNutt, represent the defense.

A DOG WHO FOUND THE TRENCHES

A few days ago those passing along the Boulevard Victor Hugo at Troyes were surprised to see a poor woman, Mme. Petitjean, huddled on a handcart weeping as if her heart would break and caressing in her arms the body of a splendid wolf dog that had been run over by a careless chauffeur, writes W. L. McAlpin in the Daily Mirror, London. Moved by pity, passers-by stopped and tried to console the disconsolate peasant woman, but with tears running down her cheeks she told them it was impossible for them to understand the measure of her loss. "Every night," she said, "when I wheeled my vegetables from Cresantignes to the market at Troyes, Medor accompanied me and acted as my vigilant guardian. Last month he disappeared for a few days, and as he'd never left me before I thought he was lost or stolen. But one night I was awakened by well-known barks at the door. I hastened to open the door, and there was Medor, but a Medor I hardly recognized. Dirty and covered with mud, it was easy to see that he had come a long way. While I was caressing him I discovered under his collar a letter placed there by my soldier son on duty at the Bois Lepretre. In it he told me his glad surprise on seeing Medor arrive in the trenches and how he had wept like a child when he embraced him. The dog, feeling lonely at the absence of his master, had gone in search of him and goodness knows how he had found him."

GOOD FOR EVIL

Instead of returning evil with evil, try to return evil with good, to say nothing ill of men, to act kindly even with the ox. Live thus one day, two days or more and compare the state of your mind with its state in former days. Make the attempt and you will see how the dark, evil moods have passed away and how the soul's happiness has increased.—Tolstoy.

BROAD ENOUGH

A large and stout woman called on a friend and while waiting for her was stared at so intently by the friend's little children that she asked one of them:

"What are you staring at, little girl?"

"Why, you see, mamma said you were so narrow in your views, and I was wondering what view she got."—Philadelphia Ledger.

THE OCHIL HILLS

Those soft green hills, how they allure the eye
To linger hour by hour on their smooth breast,
Where tender lights and chequered shadows rest.
Forever varied with the changing sky.
Daily I gaze upon those summits high,
And grow familiar with each sunny crest,
Or track the windings of some valley blest,
That melts in dim recesses mistily.
No thought have I to win a nearer view,
Or tread those mountains with exploring feet,
Rending the airy veil of azure hue:
I leave them like imaginations sweet
And cherished, of the Beautiful and True,
Which from afar with wistful love I greet. —Richard Wilton.

CANNED BOYHOOD

The city substitutes for chores are just beginning to appear. A father was listening to the chat of three 14-year-old boys on his veranda, one of them his son. They talked of gymnasium, school teams, municipal playgrounds and the boy scouting. As he thought of the contrast between their leisurely, organized play and the precious morsels of playtime snatched from the chores of his own youth he exclaimed of these modern youngsters, "Canned boyhood."

From the city and suburb the chore is well night gone, and gone for good. Athletics are a useful substitute. Boy scouting has been a godsend. Scoutcraft, as applied to the cities, does in fact, make the boy scouts the chore boys of the great community. But athletics and scoutcraft, when all is said and done, are not work. And the wholesome part about chores is that they teach children the elementary lesson that life is a little holiday entirely surrounded by work, instead of a little work entirely surrounded by holiday.

The eternal routine of cleaning the horses, feeding pigs, milking cows, splitting kindling, lugging coal, washing dishes, cutting grass, cleaning the stables, emptying ashes, hoeing the garden—how we hated it then and how we thank our stars for it now.

For that routine of petty tasks built into the fiber of our lives a stoical habit of viewing work as the normal state of man. Which it is.—Uncle Dudley in the Boston Globe.

Successful methods for the control of the foot-rot of sweet potatoes, a serious and destructive disease in several States, have been developed by the specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

ADD TO DELIVERY SERVICE

The Valley Supply Co. is starting out the first of the year with greatly improved delivery facilities. While purchasing machines, Mr. Hill, senior partner of the firm, purchased an Overland roadster for his personal use.

LIME FOR FLOWERS AND LAWNS

The application of lime to the soil produces a wonder revelation in the rich, deep colored petal of the flower and the dark, rich green color of the foliage of the plants, says Henry Bucey in Northwest Horticulturist.

The flowers by their added brilliancy appear to be an improved variety. The flowers when cut will not wilt down like those grown on soil deficient in lime.

All plants appear to take on a new life in such improved soil. And the effect of all fertilizer on the newly limed soil is soon noticeable, which is not the case in an acid soil. The best foreground and background for the display of beautiful flowering plants with their rich foliage is a beautiful lawn. Such a lawn cannot be had upon a soil deficient in lime. The grass on such soil presents a slender, limp growth of flat green color, with moss growing around its roots impoverishing its growth. Apply ground limestone to such soil at the rate of two tons per acre and notice the result in a short time. The grass will not shoot up like a weed, but the lawn will become of a dark blue-green color. The blades of the grass will widen out from its base and become stiff and stout and vigorous. The moss will begin to turn a light yellow and in three weeks it has about all disappeared. When the lawn is in this condition any fertilizer placed upon the soil is soon very noticeable. The lawn mower will clip this improved grass more smoothly and evenly than ever before, for the reason that the blades of grass stand more erect and are stiff and tender, and easily cut.

It is all right and proper to take life seriously, but it is an open question whether it is best to take it as seriously tas old Uncle Josh, who was stopped in the road by an acquaintance one afternoon late in the fall as he was driving home.

"I say, Josh," excitedly called out the man, "have you heard the news?"

"No," replied Josh, "I don't reckon I have. What is it?"

"Bill Jones committed suicide. Shot himself back of his barn."

"You don't say," thoughtfully remarked Josh. "Wonder if he got all his corn husked?"

CHRISTMAS TREE SERVICES

The Catholic Sunday School Christmas tree services were held in Butler's hall Sunday afternoon, instead of Hurtt's hall as originally announced, the latter place not being large enough to accomodate the children and their friends who came to enjoy the beautiful tree and entertaining program. MESSIAH'S ADVENT

The cantata, "Messiah's Advent," was given by a large chorus under the direction of Miss Isgreig at the First Methodist church on Sunday evening, a large congregation being present to enjoy the beautiful music. Besides the chorus numbers there were a number of solos and duets, the soloists being Miss Eva Thede, Miss Margaret Addison, Mr. Haines, Miss Margaret Lusby, and Mrs. Starkey.

The rendition of this beautiful cantata reflected great credit on the church choir and its leader, Miss Isgreig. The singers entered into the spirit of the various parts and gave a splendid interpretation of them. From the first solo, "Behold, I Will Raise," by Miss Eva Thede, to the last great chorus, "Blessed Be the Name," the large congregation was under the spell of the music.

The solos, duets, quartets and ensemble work of the choir were well rendered. The understanding and feeling expressed showed a keen appreciation of the cantata. It also showed faithful and hard work.

Some of the soloists have voices full of promise. The Misses Marion Addison, Eva Thede and Margaret Lusby were among the younger soloists whose voices promise much for the future. Mr. Haines' baritone solo work was much appreciated. Miss Isgreig and Mr. Carl Starkey rendered some beautiful duets. The cantata was a great success.

After the cantata a "watch night service" was held. Short addresses were made by Messrs. T. W. Watson, Charles Starkey, Paul Brooks, Rev. C. R. Norton and the Misses Marie Schwarze and Margaret Lusby. From ten till eleven o'clock a "fellowship hour" was observed at which light refreshments were served. The "watch meeting" closed with a praise service in which nearly all present participated. It was a large company that waited till the dawn of the New Year.

LITERARY SECTION

The Literary Section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club met at the home of Mrs. A. L. Weaver, 235 South Kenwood street, Tuesday afternoon. The subject of the afternoon was "Journalism" and autobiographies of four great men in the literary world were read: first, Benjamin Franklin, by Mrs. A. H. Chapman; Horace Greeley, Mrs. Martha Morris; Mrs. Morris also gave some of her personal reminiscences, as she had met Horace Greeley at her mother's home, where he was a guest, when she was a girl, and her paper was very interesting. Joseph Pulitzer was Mrs. L. I. Goldthwaite's subject, and extracts from Henry Watterson's "Compromise of Life" were read by Mrs. Blake Franklin. The afternoon spent in the company of these great men proved a very delightful and interesting one.

MILE OF PENNIES

Ladies of the General Richard Gridley Chapter, G. A. R., are urged to bring the contents of their little red bags, gathered during the month of December, to the meeting of the chapter on Thursday at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. W. Houston, 1540 Myrtle avenue. They are to keep the bags to gather more pennies during January and until the mile of pennies for the day nursery and maternity hospital has been collected. The enthusiasm is growing. Mrs. Baurhyte, president of the nursery and cottage, has given out forty bags to ladies in Los Angeles, who are also helping in the good cause. One of the Glendale ladies gathered $40 in pennies during the month of December, and all have received much encouragement in the very splendid idea. No one misses the small amount asked for and it gives every one an opportunity to help in a very splendid cause.

Permits for the importation of 127,706 canaries were issued by the Government Biological Survey during the past year.

TROPICO TRUSTEES

PACIFIC ELECTRIC REFUSES TO BUILD DEPOT AT THIS TIME

The trustees of the city of Tropico met in regular session Tuesday evening at 7:30, with the following officers and members of the board present: Trustees Peters, president of the board; Henry, Alspach, Seal and Veselich; City Clerk Mrs. Coleman; City Attorney Shaw; City Engineer Wattles and Health Officer Mabry.

Minutes of the last meeting read and approved.

A communication was received from the Pacific Electric in answer to the petition sent them. The answer was very lengthy, going into the details and citing the fact that the revenue derived from the local Tropico freight business was only $45.75 for the year 1916 and that in case the depot should be built it would be necessary to eliminate some of the stops within the city limits of Tropico and especially the stop at Tropico avenue, as this stop would be less than 400 feet from the location of the proposed depot. The communication was ordered placed on file and a request made that the answer in full be published in the local paper so that the people in general may know the facts in the matter.

A communication was received from the State Insurance Co., asking the board to rewrite their compensation insurance policy for the year 1917; ordered placed on file.

A communication was received from E. Shillings asking for an extension of thirty days in which to complete his contract on Hill street, stating to the board that the extension was necessary on account of the delay caused by the laying of the water mains. The extension was granted.

The regular order of business was suspended in order to take up the matter of laying gas mains on Hill and Green streets. Mr. Protheroe, representing the Gas Co., was present and addressed the board in regard to the proposed line and cited the reasons why it would be impossible for them to extend their lines nine hundred feet for three or four consumers.

Mr. Mushet and Mrs. Thompson, who are two of the parties asking for the service, were present and addressed the board on the subject, stating that they, among others, had purchased property in that locality and wished to continue improving it, but with the lack of gas service it would be impossible for them to do so. After considerable discussion between the parties concerned, it was agreed that Mr. Protheroe prepare a proposition for laying the pipes and present it to the board and proposed consumers on or before the next meeting night of the board.

A petition from property owners along the proposed Columbus avenue improvement project was presented to the board, protesting that the proposed improvement be abandoned for the present. The petition was referred to the city engineer to check up the frontage of the petitioners, who later reported that about 60 per cent. of the frontage was represented on the petition. A motion carried, acknowledging the validity of the petition and ordering all proceedings for the proposed improvement of Columbus avenue to be abandoned.

The city health officer reported that the license fee of J. Cochetti, for selling milk in Tropico be returned to him and that a permit be refused on account of the unsanitary condition of his premises.

The street superintendent reported that the water company had the pipe on the ground and asked that the grade stake be set so they might proceed at once with the work.

The report of the building inspector was filed, showing fees for building permits, $5.50, plumbing fees, $3.50, electrical fees, $11.59, total, $20.59. The city marshal's report showed six licenses issued and fees collected $30. Reports ordered filed.

The following claims were allowed and ordered paid:

GOOD INSURANCE PROSPECTS

By Clarence Axman

(Written for the United Press)

Chinamen are good prospects for life insurance agents if the latter are good fellows, but if persona non grata they can have the finest protection proposition in the world to offer and they will be met with an indifferent shrug of the shoulder.

Barnes Moss, formerly of Atlanta, and representing a life insurance company in North China, has a reputation in Shanghai of being a good mixer among Chinese bankers and merchants, which may account for the fact that he can and does write a million dollars of life insurance business in a year.

I spent half a day with him while he solicited risks. The first thing we did was to go to a bank and pay a death claim on the wealthiest Chinaman in Shanghai who had died a short time before.

"The Chinaman loves prompt payment," said Ross, "and we make it a point to pay the claim in the quickest possible time because of the impression it makes."

We entered the bank, went directly to a room in the back and seeing the beneficiary Barnes shouted so that all could hear him: "Boys, I've got the check." A crowd of the insured's former associates gathered around, all smiling as they witnessed the signing of the receipt, and we were out in five minutes.

"I'll tackle that whole bunch for life insurance inside of a week," said Moss. "They have all had an object lesson in life insurance.

Going into an ivory store Moss wrote an income policy by showing the proprietor that on his great birthdays—from sixty up, a large sum of money would be due him each year.

"Over in America there is only one way to sell life insurance," said Ross, "and that is by talking of the protection to the family—the widow and the children. But that kind of talk here would make me starve to death. The Chinaman is interested in himself, not in the family. He is interested in what he is going to get out of the proposition, and does not worry what is going to become of his family when he passes away."

We had an illustration of this after returning to the office before lunch when a young Chinaman, his face alight with smiles came in, and said with an air of great joy: "My father died today." He was the beneficiary under the policy.

The best life insurance solicitors in Shanghai are of the white race. It is difficult to find native talent to solicit life insurance, as the Chinamen regard insurance soliciting as degrading. It makes them "lose face," something undignified. Chinamen of the better class are long-lived, but the insurance men must keep the closest kind of watch on their livers because the Chinaman starts eating when he arises in the morning and keeps it up until he retires at night. Also, he doesn't take any exercise, rides in chairs always, and thinks only servants should play athletic games.

An interesting sidelight on the situation is the fact that a small amount of opium smoking is permitted by examiners of the life companies. Opium smoking days are numbered, however, and its death knell will come sometime in 1917 by government agreements.

It's easy enough to make a Chinaman sign an application for insurance if you know how, but no one living can make him satisfied with the terms of settlement when the policy matures.

"Be a company ever so generous the Chinaman can show where he should get more," said Moss. "He is the quickest man in the world at figures, and the shrewdest."

I AM THE PRINTING PRESS

I am the printing press, born of the mother earth. My heart is of steel, my limbs are of iron, and my fingers are of brass. I sing the songs of the world, the oratorios of history, the symphonies of all time.

I am the voice of to-day, the herald of to-morrow. I weave into the warp of the past the woof of the future. I tell the stories of peace and war alike.

I make the human heart beat with passion or tenderness. I stir the pulse of nations, and make brave men do braver deeds and soldiers die.

I inspire the midnight toiler, weary at his loom, to life his head again and gaze with fearlessness into the vast beyond, seeking the consolation of a hope eternal.

When I speak, a myriad people listen to my voice. The Saxon, the Latin, the Celt, the Hun, the Slav, the Hindu, all comprehend me.

I am the tireless clarion of the news. I cry your joys and sorrows every hour. I fill the dullard's mind with thoughts uplifting. I am light, knowledge, power. I epitomize the conquests of mind over matter.

I am the record of all things mankind has achieved. My offspring comes to you in the candle's glow, amid the dim lamps of poverty, the splendor of riches; at sunrise, at high noon and in the waning evening.

I am the laughter and tears of the world, and I shall never die until all things return to the immutable dust.

I am the printing press.

WORK IN DATE BREEDING

The prohibition of export of date offshoots from the French possessions in north Africa and the interruption of imports from other places have given new impetus to the date-breeding work under way for the past 10 years at the department date garden at Indio, Cal. Many new seedling date varieties are now being originated in America, some of which, according to the annual report of the Chief of the Bureau of Plant Industry, are apparently equal to the finest that have resulted from 3,000 years of date culture in the Old World.

"A merry heart," says Solomon, "doeth good like a medicine; but a broken spirit drieth up the bones."

SOIL SURVEYS

The soils of 571,463,680 acres, or 892,912 square miles, in the United States have been investigated and mapped, either in detail or reconnoissance surveys, by the Bureau of Soils of the department, according to the report of the chief of that bureau, just issued. Of this total, 24,749,440 acres, or 38,671 square miles, in 75 areas in 32 States were mapped in detail during the past year. In addition, reconnoissance surveys were made of 5,333,760 acres in California and Wisconsin. Several areas have now been surveyed in each of the 48 States and one survey extending across the island has been completed in Porto Rico.

The soil surveys have for one purpose the study of the relation of soils to crops. The investigators study the physical and chemical nature of soils, samples of which are taken throughout the areas being surveyed, and at the same time gather from all available sources, and particularly from farmers, the kinds of crops and crop yields on the different soil types identified and mapped. The soils show the location and extent of the different soils with reference to roads, watercourses, schoolhouses, churches, and other landmarks, so that the farmer, by consulting the map, can determine the general character of soil on his own property.

HE USED HIS HEAD

In the American Magazine Charles M. Schwab says:

"Andrew Carnegie first attracted attention by using his head to think with. It was when he was a telegraph operator on the Pennsylvania railroad under Col. Thomas A. Scott. One morning a series of wrecks tangled up the line. Colonel Scott was absent and young Carnegie could not locate him. Things looked bad.

"Right then Carnegie disregarded one of the road's strictest rules and sent out a dozen telegrams signed with Colonel Scott's name, giving orders that would clear the blockade.

"'Young man,' said the superintendent a few hours later, 'do you realize that you have broken this company's rules?'

"'Well, Mr. Scott, aren't your tracks clear and your trains running?,' asked the young telegrapher.

"Colonel Scott's punishment was to make Carnegie his private secretary. A few years later, when the colonel retired from office, he was succeeded by the former telegraph operator, then only twenty-eight years old."

WHAT IS THRIFT?

Real thrift is not related to stinginess or miserly habits. Thrift is the foundation of success in business, of comfortable homes and high standing in community life. Thrift means the wise expenditure of money as well as effort, an avoidance of waste in every department of life. Thrift is not stupid hoarding of money, but wisdom in its best use. Thrift does not hinder in neighborly kindness, but increases the power to lend a hand when opportunity offers. Thrift is worth while; get the habit.

TRY A CHANGE

Put your hammer in the locker,
Hide the sounding board likewise;
For anyone can be a knocker
And anyone can criticise.

Cultivate a manner winning,
Though it hurts your face to smile
And seems awkward in beginning—
Be a booster for a while.

—M. Holloway.
